Hello Families,

Thank you to all our families that donated to our Halloween party! The students had a great time enjoying their costumes and lots of yummy treats.

Outdoor gear - A reminder to continue to send students with appropriate outdoor gear for all recess and outdoor activities. With the colder weather approaching students need to have coats, hats, mittens, etc. when the weather requires it. If you need any assistance please reach out.

Holiday Food Drive!

Woodview will be collecting Thanksgiving holiday food items now through Tuesday, November 18. The holiday season is a good time to reinforce to our students the importance of giving. We will be having a competition between classrooms, with a prize going to the class that collects the most food items for each grade level. Please bring contributions to your classroom so we can assemble holiday food baskets for families in need. You can also drop off food items to the office between 9:00 am – 3:00 pm.

Items greatly appreciated are turkeys, canned yams, canned fruits or vegetables, stuffing, boxed potatoes, gravy, canned cranberry, dessert mixes, etc. (no expired items)

If you are in need of holiday assistance, please contact Ms. Chernoby at 616-794-4751 or chernobs@bas-k12.org

In the Classroom:

Mathematics: Students wrapped up our module on measurement and rounding. They tested this week and started module 3, multiplication and division with units of 0, 1, 6-9, and multiples of 10. Any extra practice students can get skip-counting and practicing their multiplication facts will help them.

English-Language Arts- Students finished up studying historical fiction and why people immigrate to America. They will be studying poetry next and how people solve problems.

Science/Social Studies - Students continue to dive into our first unit. They studied tribal, state, and local government this past week. The next few weeks they will be learning about conflict and compromise and taking a stand on public issues.

Spotlight Students:

Britney: Britney is a hard working student who does an excellent job of getting her school work done. She is very creative and enjoys drawing with her friends. Britney shared pictures of herself in school when she was younger.

Graham: Graham is a bright and spunky student in our class. He is friends with everyone and seeks to include all students. He loves talking about his family and sharing his love of the University of Michigan.
