Dates to Remember:

10/3/25 - assembly in afternoon

10/17/25 - end of 1st MP

10/20/25 - No school

10/22/25 - ½ Day Elementary Conferences (see sign up attached to this newsletter email)

Supplies:

Thank you to everyone who has contributed to our classroom so far this year. If anyone ever wants to donate to the class snacks, that would be awesome!!

Other Important Reminders:

-Please check Class Dojo for important information regarding classroom updates!

-This week we talked all about goal setting! I will share some goals we set at conferences!

-Please send your child to school with a sweater of some sort, the weather is starting to change!

-REMINDER: Homework is sent out Monday-Thursday, and I will always send a message if the students do not have it that particular day.

Math: We are finishing our first unit in Math next week... that means our unit test is coming up! This entire module focuses on place value, rounding, expanded form, addition, subtraction, and multi step word problems. We really have been taking the time to master each skill every day. I am so proud of the students! Please remember to check for homework every night, I will always keep you updated on whether or not we have it that day. Our unit test will be at the end of next week or early the week after, I will be sure to send an email out prior. Please keep practicing!

Science: We are on Lesson 3 of our Science unit. It is called "Birth of Rocks". In this unit, students investigate features and processes of the Earth's surface. I am very excited for the students to do some hands-on experiments! Last week, we learned if a volcano could pop up in our backyard!

Language Arts: The students are in the midst of writing our first big writing of the year... Our Personal Narrative! We are talking about a hard time that we had to go through. They are doing a great job putting the pieces together to create a wonderful piece!

I am so proud of the students in this classroom, we are off to such a great start to the year, I cannot believe we are already almost done with September. Have a great weekend!

Do not be afraid to reach through email or phone!
